WANT A REPLICA OF AN ITEM IN YOUR CUSTOMER'S PRODUCT LINE?

We can replicate any item by developing a custom tool to replicate this item with several options for material, and suggestions for the size/scale.

Working from specifications that you would provide, our design team will review and provide a quote for both the new tool and the unit cost, then once approved, a CAD design of the new mold will be provided; once the CAD is approved, a model will be made for review/approval and then production of tooling and the actual replicas will begin.

MOQ will vary from 500-1000 units depending on material.

Below are several custom models we have produced recently.
