I'm looking forward to getting to know you!

At Bankers, I proofread orders to ensure accuracy and strive to enter them efficiently, usually the same day. It's my responsibility to facilitate the art and proofing process to keep orders moving efficiently while checking on inventory and stock issues. I communicate in a friendly, professional manner to inform sales partners of any production questions or issues related to their order. The customers' best interest is always top of mind so I make sure to follow up to ensure event dates are met.
