It is highly recommended to get a pre-production sample before printing on greys, heathers, charcoals, or pastels. This is because there might be some pretreatment staining.

DTG printing on different colors, styles, and materials, the results can vary between shirts, even if you're using the exact same artwork.

Getting a GREAT Print: Tips & Tricks

Print appearance WILL vary between garment colors and fabrics

USE THE BEST SHIRT POSSIBLE

We understand this is subjective; however, when striving for top tier quality prints, 100% ring spun cotton shirts are superior for most printing applications. These are the go-to for screen printing, DTG, and Digital Squeegee Printing.

We can print on sweats as well as other materials but often the prints are not as vibrant as they are on 100% cotton garments. This is especially important to note when placing orders with multiple garment/fabric types. Different fabrics in the same order may often result in different visual appearances of the print. Blends, especially sweats, tend to lose vibrancy after being cured due to dye migration and material absorbency. This can sometimes be remedied by using a migration blocker when screen printing or digital squeegee printing, but DTG does not have this option. Please remember to inform your clients of the various expectations when printing multiple items, colors and materials, especially when using both cotton and blends/sweats.

ART TIPS

Keep in mind when designing graphics for printing to incorporate garment color in the design as much as possible to avoid printing a large solid print. It's also important to note that not all graphics will work on every shirt color. This is tricky when dealing with multiple garment colors and shirt fabrics. We highly advise doing a pre-pro whenever possible to ensure the print will look exactly the way you want.

Pigment dyed and tie-dyed garments are unique exceptions and should be treated as blended garments since they are often 100% cotton shirts but experience heavy dye migration.*

GENERAL

EMBROIDERY

NOTE: If separate line items/styles exceed 10% of overall quantity—total quantity discount will not be applied. (For example, if there are over 10 line items on a 100 piece order, the order will no longer qualify for total quantity pricing.)

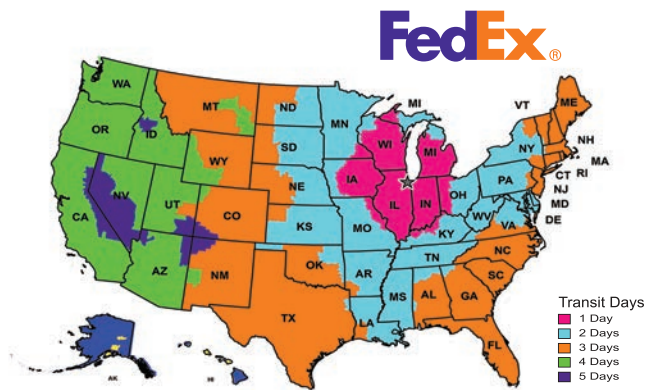

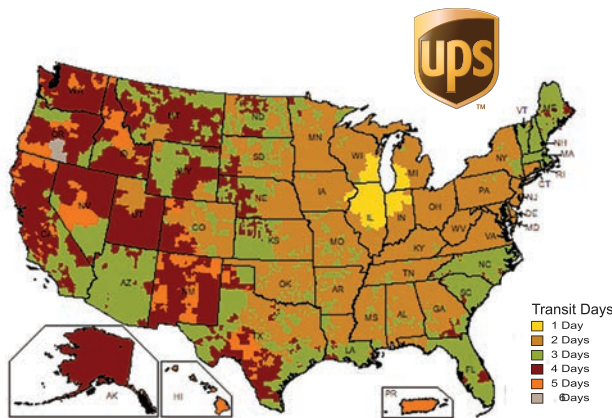

We reserve the right to credit, instead of replace damaged items, for the actual cost of damaged items up to 2% of the order.

MAXIMUM SCREEN & DIGITAL PRINT SIZING

Sizing shown is approximate and will vary in appearance on size, style and brand of garment. Adult mock-ups represent a standard unisex M/L t-shirt.

We Ship Anywhere On-Time

Clients must prepare all customs documents for international shipments. Freight shipping available at request.

Every effort will be made to use requested shipping method. We cannot guarantee freight company on rush orders with critical ship dates. We reserve the right to change the freight option in order to accommodate shipping deadlines, as well as the right invoice added shipping cost(s) if needed to meet requested in-hands date. Please be aware that we are not financially liable for third party freight delays. Shipping charges are calculated based on the actual weight, distance traveled, declared value, and type of shipping method that is standard or requested. SDT is not responsible for estimates on shipping charges. Quality dispute claims must be made within 30 days of shipped order from Same Day Tees.

PLEASE NOTE: All orders over 144 pieces are subject to a 2% Spoilage Allowance; water based is subject to 3% Spoilage Allowance. All orders under 144 pieces are subject to 3% spoilage allowance. Discharge printing is subject to a 5% Spoilage Allowance. Multiplied by the amount of imprints or 1 piece whichever is greater. Polyester is subject to dye migration, this can happen up to two weeks after merchandise is printed and cured. Colors most vulnerable are red, maroon, green, and dark blues. Customer takes all risk for dye migration in polyester and polyester blends. It is the responsibility of the customer to order correct quantities and provide additional blanks if necessary. If exact quantities are required, we recommend ordering with spoilage allowance in mind. We check incoming merchandise for defects and check size, color, and style against the PO. However, we will not be held liable for defects in merchandise and we will not be held liable for printing on wrong merchandise. We cannot provide any warranty or assume responsibility for retail brands that were not purchased through industry suppliers. At no time shall our liability exceed the cost of imprinting. All claims must be made within 30 days of receipt of merchandise. Any items left over 90 days become property of Same Day Tees and will be donated to the charity of our choice.
